

English

Today, I'd like you to edit your work from yesterday.

Remember that editing is reading over your work and then correcting for spelling as well as improving what you have written - sometimes that will mean adding a word or two or taking some away - try to make your writing flow as you read it and think about what you are trying to make your reader think and feel.

Things to look for:

- Capital letters and full stops
- Adverbials (tell you about the doing word, the verb, when, where or how)
- Interesting describing words (adjectives)
- Finally, check your spelling (perhaps ask your adult to help you with this part and/or use an online dictionary for your spellings <https://www.dictionary.com/> or an online thesaurus to improve your word choices <https://www.thesaurus.com/>)
