

English

Apostrophes

1. During the race, the runners' feet were sore and bleeding because they had not worn any shoes.
2. After the final, the wrestler's medal glistened as the bright sunlight hit it directly.
3. In the morning, the stadium's track was magnificent before it was used by the athletes.
4. The spectators' views, wherever they sat, were amazing from the new stands.

Write whether the sentences above are linked to a singular or plural noun (i.e. The dog's bone - singular as there is only one dog) and then write the sentences with the other noun type - so if you thought the sentence was singular - the dog's bone - you then rewrite the sentence using the plural version of the noun - the dogs' bones.