

Mr Whoops is a little bit clumsy...OK, OK, he's a lot clumsy! Even though he's really trying hard with his writing, he's still accidentally misspelt TEN of his Year 3 Term 1B spelling words. Can you spot his mistakes?

Highlight them in the passage of text.

Could you then correct the words at the bottom of the sheet and create a list for Mr. Whoops to practise?

Activity 1

I simply detest Halloween and fully agree with people who say that it should be banned. Every year on 31st October, I'll be sitting comfortably in my armchair when I have to get up to answer my door to a group of terribly dressed children, who then rudely ask me for sweets! I would never arrive at a stranger's house, appear outside their door and cheekily ask them to make me a bacon sandwich! What a cheek! It is probably the time of year I like the least.

Mr Whoops needs to practise these words:

Mr Whoops is a little bit clumsy...OK, OK, he's a lot clumsy! Even though he's really trying hard with his writing, he's still accidentally misspelt TEN of his Year 3 Term 1B spelling words. Can you spot his mistakes?

Highlight them in the passage of text.

Could you then correct the words at the bottom of the sheet and create a list for Mr. Whoops to practise?

Activity 2

Uwusally, people would describe Bobby and Billy Bumble as the naughtiest twins on the planet. They happily went through life annoying each other (although they secrettly admired the other brother's naughtiness!) and busily attempting to upset everyone around them. One day, they set off out of their house with the intention of playing some horribley wicked tricks when dramattically and rather comickally, Billy tumbled down a huge hole in the ground.

"I bet that hurt," said Bobby dryley as he began to howl with laughter.

"Thanks for your concern," replied Billy angrily whilst trying to catch his breathe.

Mr Whoops needs to practise these words:

Mr Whoops is a little bit clumsy...OK, OK, he's a lot clumsy! Even though he's really trying hard with his writing, he's still accidentally misspelt TEN of his Year 3 Term 1B spelling words. Can you spot his mistakes?

Highlight them in the passage of text.

Could you then correct the words at the bottom of the sheet and create a list for Mr. Whoops to practise?

Activity 3

I know I have a bit of a reputation for behaving clumsily and messily, and often getting myself into scrapes, but recently I have become much more co-ordinated through playing basketball. Whoever would have guessed that I could gently dribble a ball before magically throwing it in a hoop from a great distance without tripping over? I even won the most improved player award at last week's team celebration. As I humbly and shyly walked up the stairs to collect my trophy, all my teammates applauded wildly. But as I coily stood there on stage with my prize, I accidentally got my foot caught in the red carpet and I fell from a great height into the crowd. Oops!

Mr Whoops needs to practise these words:
