

Year 3 - English Homework - 16-9-19

Remember that adverbials are describing words that give added meaning to verbs.

They are roving reporters that can move around sentences telling us how (manner), where (place) or when (time) something happened.

Add adverbials to these sentences and remember to add a comma (,) after it when it is at the front of the sentence (fronted adverbial).

Example:

Verb

In the morning, Colin wriggled quietly towards the leaf of the flower so he could have breakfast.

Fronted adverbial
of time

Adverbial
of manner

Adverbial of place

1. The lion roared.
2. The baby cried.
3. The door opened.
4. A bird chirped.
5. The leaf dropped.

Blue, green and orange groups – add one adverbial to each sentence.

Red, yellow and purple groups – add at least two adverbials to each sentence.
