

Art

Paul Klee is an abstract artist. Abstract art is where artists thought less about the subject matter (the thing they are actually painting - building, person, landscape) and more about the shapes and colours in their paintings.

and have a go at creating your version of 'The Castle and the Sun'. If you have paint have a go using them (an apron to protect you from the paint and a table to work on - cover the table with old newspaper to protect your table from paint). If you don't have paint, don't worry, use felt-tip pens or coloured pencils. Enjoy yourself!
